The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted by all United Nations Member States in 2015, provides a shared blueprint for peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and into the future. At its heart are the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which are an urgent call for action by all countries - developed and developing - in a global partnership. They recognize that ending poverty and other deprivations must go hand-in-hand with strategies that improve health and education, reduce inequality, and spur economic growth – all while tackling climate change and working to preserve our oceans and forests.

The main objective of the course is the dissemination of the SDGs among communication professionals, thus awakening interest in implementing and following them, placing special emphasis on how to establish the basic lines for an action and monitoring plan.

- To learn the 17 goals to transform the world
- To teach the specific actions to achieve the objectives
- To know the goals achieved globally in the five years and challenges after the pandemic in the decisive decade
