The University for Peace (UPEACE) and Gioya HEI, in partnership with the King Hamad Global Center for Peaceful Coexistence (KHGC) launches the first ever “Postgraduate Diploma on Peaceful Coexistence: Reinforcing Peace, Human Rights and Development". UPEACE, Gioya HEI and KHGC share common goals aimed at achieving global peace, creating a safe future by developing knowledge and skills and organizing targeted training to raise awareness and improve all education-related programs and initiatives in the fields of human rights, international law, commercial diplomacy and peaceful coexistence. Therefore, these entities strive to achieve these goals through the implementation of joint programs for employees in the diplomatic field and governmental bodies on a national and regional levels. The program is accredited by UPEACE as well as by Gioya HEI as a joint Postgraduate Diploma through the Commercial Diplomacy module. The KHGC, in addition to contributing to funding scholarships, will support the program boosting international visibility.

The Joint Postgraduate Diploma on Peaceful Coexistence has been designed to provide the knowledge and skills necessary to engage in contexts related to peace and conflict studies that are entangled with aspects of Peaceful Coexistence. Acknowledging the critical role that multilateralism play in being a motivation for or a factor in the resolution of conflicts, this programme takes an interdisciplinary and dynamic approach to dealing with a range of issues including the theoretical and practical aspects crucial to engage with the study of different theories, and cultivating nuanced insights in the ways in which the ideal of Peaceful Coexistence can be furthered through relevant resources belonging to the domains of religion and culture.
